GIRL'S EQUALITY PROJECT

Girls throughout the world are discriminated against. The burdens are especially debilitating in education once girls reach puberty. In many countries, girls miss a full week of school each month due to menstruation. They soon drop out of school. This leaves girls disadvantaged for life.

The Global Uplift Project's Save a Girl campaign provides washable, reusable sanitary supplies to adolescent girls in the developing world so they don't have to miss school. The kits last for 3 years, usually long enough for a girl to finish school. One kit costs $5, but is free of charge to the girl.

We are raising funds to provide 25,000 girls with kits. It is an astonishingly low cost to help liberate half of humanity's potential.

Please help. Ask every one of your friends to sponsor one or more kits. And ask them to do the same with their friends. Set an ambitious goal for your group. It is a stocking stuffer for us, some of the most fortunate people in the world. But it is life for a girl in the developing world.
